

Publication of master's thesis

The Institute for Computer Engineering Technical would like to increase the visibility of scientific results from student work. Therefore, selected master's theses—with the consent of the author and primary supervisor—can be published in electronic form via the Heidelberg University Library. If you agree to the publication of your master's thesis, please fill out the declaration for electronic publication and submit it to Ms. Sarah Englert. The Institute will then organize the publication of the master's thesis. The publication of the master's thesis is then organized by the Institute for Computer Engineering.

I transfer to Heidelberg University Library for the duration of the copyright term and with no regional limitation the non-exclusive right to reproduce the work, which may consist of one or more files, and the supplied metadata on its servers, to store it permanently and electronically and to make it available on international data networks. The rights to exploit the work in any other form will remain unaffected.

Heidelberg University Library is entitled to make such modifications as are technically necessary to ensure the long-term preservation of the work while maintaining the integrity of the work's contents.

The University Library is entitled to transfer the rights granted by this agreement, without special permission, wholly or partially to another person and to transfer non-exclusive rights to other libraries, archives or open access platforms, such as repositories of the relevant Specialised Information Services, in case of a PoD license to service providers and to supra-regional network database systems for long-term preservation, such as the Deutsche Nationalbibliothek / German National Library Frankfurt/Main, Leipzig.

I certify that I am authorized to grant the rights of use to the work, including the contained text and/ or images of a third party. I further certify that I am responsible for the content of the work and that with such a publication no legal regulations or rights of a third party are infringed.

I commit myself to inform Heidelberg University Library immediately, if after publication alleged or actual infringements of third party rights should be enforced and to release the University Library from any third party claim and to cover all costs resulting from such claims. I will not receive any compensation for the publication of the submitted work.

I certify that the publication of the dissertation is in accordance with the current doctoral degree regulations and that the electronic form corresponds to the printed deposit copies in content and form.
